SUBJECT: New Commercial Availability (Formerly "Short Supply") Review on Apparel of Open-End Spun Viscose Rayon Yarns, Investigation No. 332-
450-007

The U.S. International Trade Commission has commenced a review to provide advice in connection with a petition filed under the "commercial availability" provisions of the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) and the United States-Caribbean Basin Trade Act (CBTPA) on apparel of certain open-end spun viscose rayon yarns. The yarn, classified in the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS) under subheading 5510.11.00, is micro-denier 30 singles and 36 singles solution-dyed, open-end spun (OES), staple spun, viscose rayon yarns produced on open-ended spindles, for use in manufacturing fabrics.

This review is being conducted under the Commission's investigation for all such requests during 2003, investigation No. 332-450, Commercial Availability of Apparel Inputs (2003): Effect of Providing Preferential Treatment to Apparel Imported from Sub-Saharan African, Caribbean Basin, and Andean Countries, which was requested by the United States Trade Representative (USTR).

The Commission's review concerns a petition received by the Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements (CITA) on November 3, 2003, from Fabrictex, New York, NY, alleging that the subject yarn cannot be supplied by the domestic industry in commercial quantities in a timely manner. The Commission will provide advice to the USTR concerning the probable economic effect on affected segments of the U.S. textile and apparel industries, workers in these industries, and consumers of granting duty-free and quota-free treatment to apparel made in eligible AGOA and CBTPA countries from the subject yarn should CITA determine that the yarn cannot be supplied by the domestic industry in commercial quantities in a timely manner. The Commission will submit its advice to the USTR in a classified report by December 15, 2003, and issue a public version of the report soon thereafter.

The Commission invites interested parties to submit written statements (original and 3 copies) concerning issues to be addressed by the Commission in this review, by December 1, 2003. Information on procedures for submitting written statements can be found in the Commission's notice of investigation published in the Federal Register of February 4, 2003 (68 F.R. 5651) and posted on its website at <http://www.usitc.gov/invfrn.htm#332>.
